HASTINGS AND LYON.

The Choice of Pennsylvania's Republican Convention.

NO OPPOSITION TO GEN. HASTINGS.

In the Contest for the Second Place on the Ticket Robinson Was Defeated by Over Three to One—Congressman McDowell's Good-natured Withdrawal.

HARRISBURG, May 24.—The Republican state convention was held here today, and after a session lasting seven hours, with an intermission for dinner, named the following ticket to be voted for next November:

For governor, General Daniel H. Hastings of Bellefonte; lieutenant governor, Walter Lyon of Pittsburg; auditor general, Amos H. Mylin of Lancaster; secretary of internal affairs, General James W. Latta of Philadelphia; congressmen-at-large, Hon. Galusha A. Grow and Hon. George F. Huff.

General Louis Wagner, of Philadelphia, was chosen temporary chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees the convention took a recess for one hour, and on reassembling ex-Congressman Theodore L. Flood was elected permanent chairman. Dr. Flood made a long speech, into which he wove the name of nearly every prominent statesman from the time of Washington, each name being applauded by the crowd which was even greater than the morning session.

DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

Chairman Gilbert, of the resolutions committee, read the platform, which was unanimously adopted, and then came the most interesting moment of the day, when General Beaver climbed to the stage to nominate General Daniel H. Hastings "the hero of Johnstown." General Beaver's speech, which was a masterpiece of oratory, was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause, as was that of Charles Emory Smith in seconding the nomination. At the conclusion of Mr Smith's speech General Hastings was nominated by acclamation.

W. L. Shaffer, of Delaware, asked the convention to nominate for lieutenant governor Congressman J. B. Robinson, the "dashing Sheridan of Pennsylvania politics, who is famous in every corner of the state where love of courageous fair play in the hearts of the people, and who is the choice of the rank and file of the party."

WALTER LYON.

The mention of the name of John B. Robinson apparently aroused the greatest enthusiasm of the day. If the noise produced by his friends was any criterion. Walter T. Merrick, of Tioga, seconded the nomination in a speech in which he insinuated that Quay was responsible for Lyon's nomination.

Out of 833 votes cast Lyon got 423 and Robinson 62, and the former was declared the choice of the convention. Philadelphia and Allegheny cast 97 solid votes for Lyon. Ex-State Senator Amos H. Mylin, of Lancaster, was named for auditor general by B. Frank Eshelman, of that city. ex-Lieutenant Governor Davies, of Bradford, seconding Mr Mylin was chosen by acclamation.

District Attorney Graham, of Philadelphia, in nominating James W. Latta, of that city, for secretary of internal affairs, advocated strongly the restriction of immigration, and declared that "Our common schools should be kept free from sectarian bias," pointing to Mr Latta as one of the best products of the common schools of our state. Major Everett P. Warren, of Scranton, seconded Latta's nomination, which was made unanimously.

George B. Orlady, of Huntingdon, named "the pioneer of Republicanism," Galusha A. Grow, for a second term as congressman-at-large. A second was not deemed necessary, and Mr. Grow was chosen by acclamation.

Ex-Congressman George F. Huff, of Westmoreland, was named as Grow's running mate on the congressman-at-large ticket by James S. Bredcur, his fellow townsman.

Samuel Miller, of Mercer, named Alexander McDowell, the present congressman-at-large, to succeed himself. Major McDowell took the stage and withdrew his name. He said when he came to Harrisburg on Monday to work for a renomination he found sympathy a foot thick and a yard wide, but Huff had carried off the votes. As a German friend of his once remarked, "It's votes that count," and as he hadn't enough he desired to withdraw his name. Congressman McDowell's good natured acceptance of involuntary retirement from the political arena won the favor of the crowd, and he was cheered again and again as he took his seat. The unanimous selection of Mr. Huff concluded the business of the convention, and then the candidates were introduced.

In his speech of acceptance General Hastings called attention to existing business depression, which he charged to the uncertainty over tariff legislation, and predicted an overwhelming victory for the Republican ticket at the next election. He said in conclusion:

"We will continue to favor a distinctive American policy, which comprehends the best interests of all American citizenship, white or black, native or naturalized, and which will maintain our national credit today and the honor and glory of our flag in every country, on every sea and in every island of the sea."

Walter Lyon paid a graceful tribute to his defeated rival, "Jack" Robinson, who in response to calls from all over the house took off his hat to Mr. Lyon in such a manner as to win applause. The other candidates spoke briefly, and then, at 6 p. m., the Republican state convention of 1894 became a thing of the past.

HELD FOR CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Mr. Powderly Causes the Arrest of a Knights of Labor Official.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 24.—H. B. Martin, of Minneapolis, a member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, was in this city yesterday for the purpose of settling differences between local assemblies. He allowed himself to be interviewed by a reporter. Two hours after the interview was printed Martin was arrested at the instance of T. V. Powderly, ex-general master workman of the Knights, who alleges that Martin libeled him in the interview. That part of the interview of which Mr. Powderly complains is as follows:

"Mr. Powderly has been suspended from the Knights of Labor for refusing to turn over to his successor, J. R. Sovereign, the property of the order in his charge. This paraphernalia relates to the secret work of the organization, books, documents and other articles, all of which are specified in the correspondence which has passed. Demanding that the property be turned over. I do not know what reasons were given by Mr. Powderly for not turning over the property to the order, but they were not good reasons."

Mr. Powderly claims that he turned over to his successor all the property of the Knights of Labor that he had in his possession, and that Mr. Sovereign acknowledged the receipt of the same. Martin, when arrested, was taken before an alderman and held in $1,000 bail for court. Mr. Powderly now threatens to proceed against all the officers of the Knights of Labor who claim that he refused to turn over the property of the order.

Fatal Mine Riot in Indiana.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 24.—News has reached this city of serious trouble at Little's coal mines, at Little's station, on the Evansville and Indianapolis railroad. Two hundred and fifty miners from Washington and other mines in Davies and Pike counties armed with Winchester rifles and a cart load of ammunition, marched to Little's mines for the purpose of compelling the force at work to join in the strike. A battle occurred in which five men were wounded and two killed. Deputy sheriffs stationed as guards at the mines were disarmed and driven away. The strikers evidently intend to remain at Little's, as they have gone into camp and brought about six days' provisions with them.

The Whitewayites Defeated.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 24.—The result of the election at Bay de Verde is now known. The vote gives one supporter to the government and one to the Whiteway party, and the government gains a seat and Whiteway loses one, the former member being both Whitewayites. The result is a great surprise to the Whitewayites, as they counted on securing both seats by a majority of 300. The election cannot be considered otherwise than as a crushing blow to them, because they carried both seats in November by a majority of thirty. The government poll was practically the same as last year, but there is a change of over 200 votes from Whiteway to the government side.

Alabama's Democratic Ticket Completed.

MONTGOMERY, May 24.—The Democratic state convention on the eleventh ballot nominated William C Pitts of Tuscaloosa county, for attorney general, and on the second ballot nominated J. O. Turner for superintendent of education. H. D. Lane, present agricultural commissioner, was renominated. J. K. Jackson was nominated for secretary of state. The executive committee for the next two years was then announced and ratified. The platform indorses the administrations of Governor Jones and President Cleveland, indorses Senator John T. Morgan for re-election to the senate, and urges the speedy reform of the tariff and repeal of the state bank tax.

The Trouble Over.

A prominent man in town exclaimed the other day: "My wife has been wearing out her life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. Her case baffled the skill of our best physicians. After using three packages of Bacon's Celery King for the Nerves she is almost entirely well." Keep your blood in a healthy condition by the use of this great vegetable compound. Call at John J. Chambers, 21 West Main Street opp. Runyons grocery, sole agent, and get a trial package free. Large sizes 50c and 25c.

CHICAGO'S RELIGIOUS SENSATION

CHICAGO, May 24.—Attorney General Maloney yesterday afternoon filed a bill in the circuit court against Sister Frances, mother superior of the Service Sisters, who conduct St. Mary's seminary, Nan Buren street and Albany ave. The suit is to recover real estate and property valued at $500,000. Sister Veronica, formerly a member of the community, and several others who claim they were instrumental in soliciting the funds for the purchase of land and erection of the convent claim that the mother superior has had conveyed to herself the title of the property, and that when asked by Archbishop Feehan to recover it to the Service Sisters she promised to do so, but has not complied with the request. The attorney general declares that it is clearly within the scope of the functions of his office to inquire into alleged abuses of trusts, especially charities.

During the day a sensational scene occurred when Sister Gertrude, one of the mother superior's supporters, called at the attorney general's office and, not being recognized by the clerks, was allowed to read a bill that the attorney general intended to file. She says it contained allegations of immorality against the mother superior. Attorney General Maloney happened in and, seeing the sister reading his bill in advance of its filing, became greatly excited and ordered her out. The sister appeared much agitated and fell fainting in the office of Assessor Matthew Brady, across the hallway. Some time ago Sister Veronica and several other members of the community left the convent, claiming that a scandal was hidden within its walls in the presence of Professor McDonald, a music teacher in the seminary. Sister Veronica's secular name is Margaret Murphy, and that of Mother Superior Mary Frances is Elisabeth Cooley.

Prominent Citizens in a Bloody Riot.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 24.—One of the greatest riots that ever happened in this section occured in Wayne county, twenty-five miles south of here, between some of the most prominent citizens of that county. There has been a grudge existing between the Napier, Maynard and Adkins factions over a timber deal that was made several months ago. The parties were all at Wayne, and a general fight ensued, which lasted for half an hour. Kirk Napier, a timberman, was shot in the neck, and will probably die. Mere Napier, a merchant, was stabbed in three places, and cannot recover. Mr. Adkins, a farmer, was shot in the left hip. Tom Maynard was cut seriously in the head. About twenty men took part.

Another Slap at Breckinridge.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 24.—Political, Confederate and social circles are more excited than ever over a young woman's auxiliary of the Confederate association having refused to decorate Confederate graves because Breckinridge is a member of the veterans' association. The president of the auxiliary says it will take no part in the Breckinridge case as a body, and that there will be no refusal to decorate graves. Mrs. A. M. Harris, secretary and Miss Mary Harrison, vice president of the auxiliary, resigned their offices. They say plainly it ought not be difficult to infer why they quit the organization.

Williamsport Will Bear Her Own Loss.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 24.—A public meeting was held last night to decide whether or not to ask for assistance, at which C H McCormick presided. Much distress was reported, but the sentiment of the meeting was against asking for aid until it was found to be impossible to get along without it. Conservative estimates place the total losses at $4,000,000 in the city and county. The lumber men at a meeting decided to try and ascertain where their lost logs are, so that they may be reclaimed if possible.

"Entirely Cured."

The following letter is from Mrs. J. B. Nickel, 428 West 43th street, New York City: "I was always troubled with sick headaches and could have nothing done for them. Finally I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After using one bottle I felt much better and before my second bottle was gone I did not have any pain in my head, so I am entirely cured."

WERTS'S MANY VETOES.

Twenty-five Messages Await the Legislators.

PARTISAN LEGISLATION CHARGED.

New Jersey's Governor Declares That the Bill Taking an Assemblyman from Hunterdon County Is the Most Dangerous Scheme Ever Attempted in the State.

TRENTON, May 24.—The legislature reconvened last night to complete the work of the session. They found twenty-five veto messages from Governor Werts awaiting their consideration. House bill 148, designating the industrial school at Bordentown as the school provided by congress, and appointing a board of trustees, is disapproved for the reasons cited by the attorney general to the governor as to its validity. The governor also objects to Mr. Glasscott's bill extending the provisions of the act providing for the erection of tombstones over the graves of soldiers and sailors who may die in this state after Feb. 15, 1894, so that it applies to all soldiers and sailors who died within or without the state. The governor thinks it unnecessary, as the United States government has provided for such cases.

The bill reducing the salaries of the deputy collector of Jersey City and his chief clerk is disapproved, because the governor thinks their present salaries are not excessive. The governor can find no motive for the bill which legislates out of office the board of assessment in Newark, except a desire for political plunder. The board would change its political complexion in a few months by the expiration of the term of one of its members. The governor also finds serious defects in engrossing, which he deems fatal.

He cannot give his sanction to the bill making it a misdemeanor to sell coal by short weight, because it would fail of beneficial results and might lead to extortion. The bill which treats of boards of excise in first class cities is vetoed because it leaves to the discretion of the mayor the non-partisan character of the boards. Of this the governor says: "So called non-partisan legislation is thus made the cloak for partisan legislation, for partisan purposes, and the perpetuation of partisan rule." The bill as originally introduced, he says, was not objectionable.

The bills to remove the city collector and city marshal of Jersey City from office are vetoed as being partisan measures. The joint resolution providing for the expenditure of $3,000 to continue the Thompson-Lippincott investigation is vetoed because the committee is not vested with the right to pass upon the propriety of the expense.

The governor declares the bill taking away a member of the assembly from Hunterdon county and adding one to Camden is the most dangerous partisan scheme ever attempted by any political party in this state. He also thinks the law unconstitutional. For the latter reason he also refuses to sign the bill providing for the payment of $39,000 to Rutgers college under the free scholarship account. The bill increasing the school appropriation to $20,000 is vetoed on the ground that the finances of the state do not warrant the increase.

The Newark and Jersey City boards of works bill is denounced as partisan, and therefore vetoed, as is also the bill legislating out of office assistant prosecutors in second class counties. The Hoboken police bills are vetoed because the governor deems them special legislation, and unconstitutional. The bill relating to the custodian of the state capitol is vetoed on the ground that it is useless. After listening to the veto messages both sides of the legislature adjourned until today when they will probably pass the bills over the vetoes.

To Examine New York's Water Supply.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The board of health has ordered its chemist to make a bacteriological examination of the Croton water. Inspector Woods reports that great quantities of fish have been found dead in a pond in the water shed. They were killed by a strange growth around the gills which looks like diphtheric membrane.

Double Murder in a Court House.

PINEVILLE, Ky., May 24.—James Middleton and R. Shackleford were shot and killed in Harlan court house in a fight with Gilbert Saylor and Bert and Noah Hensley. The difficulty is said to have occurred over the wife of one of the men.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

Senator Teller's Futile Attempt to Kill the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Senator Gorman's speech was the feature of yesterday's session of the senate. Mr. Gorman and Mr. Brice have been credited by the opposition with the joint authorship of the "compromise" amendments which consolidated the Democratic side, and Mr. Gorman especially has been subjected to much criticism both in and out of the senate. His speech, replying in a measure to the attacks that have been made upon him, explaining the necessity for the compromise and defining the theory upon which the modified bill now before the senate was constructed, attracted intense interest. The speech was prepared carefully and delivered from manuscript, a thing in itself very unusual, as Mr. Gorman heretofore has always delivered his speeches without notes. The speech was not devoid of drastic comment on the course of the other side. It was regarded as an exceedingly able exposition of the position of the conservatives.

Mr. Gorman's speech furnished texts for the Republicans for the remainder of the day. His statement that a majority of the senate would support the bill was put to the test by Mr. Teller, whose purpose was to "smoke out" any latent opposition on the Democratic side. Mr. Gorman's statement was justified by the vote, however, as the Colorado senator's motion to lay the tariff bill on the table was met by an unbroken Democratic front. Both Senator Hill (N. Y.) and Senator Irby (S. C.), whose positions have been the subject of gossip from time to time, voted with their Democratic associates, as did the three Populists, including Mr. Peffer.

The onslaught on the civil service commission in the house, which was started on Tuesday, was resumed yesterday, and several times the question was disposed of only to break out a moment later in another place. The appropriations for commissioners and clerks of the civil service bureau having been stricken out on Tuesday, the next paragraph, providing for the transfer to the civil service commission of clerks from the departments, was stricken from the bill yesterday. The house refused to strike out, however, the appropriation of $6,000 for traveling expenses of civil service examiners.

Loss by Flood and Fire.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 24.—News received here from Japan confirms the loss of the sealing schooners Rosie Sparks, Charlotte Mascotte, Mattie Turny and Henry Dings. Chinese advices state that a flood in the Yang Tse Kiang river has caused terrible devastation at its confluence with the Kiang Datta, and 900 lives were lost. In Awhin province fire destroyed 3,000 houses. As a result of plots against him Viceroy Lang Chang has been suspended for leaving his post of duty.

Ex-Governor Price Improving.

HACKENSACK, N. J., May 24.—Ex-Governor Rodman Price is reported much improved today. He does not yet know of the decision of Chancellor McGill, which was handed down last week, giving him five days to pay the judgment against him or be locked up in the Hackensack jail until it is paid. Sheriff Bogart has the papers, but will not lock the governor up until he is pronounced well by the attending physicians.

Lieutenant Maney's Court Martial.

ST. PAUL, May 24.—The court martial of Lieutenant Maney, of the infantry, on charges connected with the fatal shooting by him of Captain Redberg, at Fort Sheridan, began yesterday, and all the officers of the court are now in the city. The exact charge is not known, but it is said that Lieutenant Maney will be accused of "conduct prejudicial to good order."

Emma Juch Dangerously Ill.

DETROIT, May 24.—The illness of Emma Juch has become quite alarming. Her sickness, which began at Ann Arbor last Saturday, has developed into a serious attack of inflammation of the bowels. The Boston festival orchestra appeared here last night minus its principal star. Max Heinrich said that Madame Juch's life was seriously endangered.

Application for a Receiver.

ATLANTIC CITY, May 24.—Lewis Groff, a stockholder in the Brigantine Beach Railway company, applied yesterday for a receiver to take charge of the road. He alleges that the company has defaulted on its bonds with the Holland Trust company, of New York. The road is capitalized at $60,000, and has never paid dividends on its stock.

FOUR BOLD BURGLARS.

They Raid a Texas Bank in Broad Daylight.

A ROBBER AND A CITIZEN KILLED.

Although Surrounded by Armed Citizens the Robbers Fought Their Way Out of Town with Over Two Thousand Dollars of the Bank's Money.

LONG VIEW, Tex., May 24.—Late yesterday afternoon two rough looking men walked into the First National bank, one with a slicker with a Winchester concealed in its folds. He handed the following note to President Joe Clemmons:

"This will introduce you to Charles S. Peckinpaugh, who wants some money and is going to have it. (signed) B. and F."

It was written in pencil in a fairly good hand on the back of a printed poster. The bank cashier thought it was an importunate subscription to some charity, and started to donate, when the robber pointed his Winchester at him and told him to hold up.

The other robber rushed into the side wire door and grabbed the cash. Thomas Clemmons and the other bank officials were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the vaults, securing over $2,000.

While this was going on two of the robbers were in the rear alley of the bank shouting at everyone who appeared, and were being fired on by City Marshal Muckley and Deputy Will Stevens.

The firing made the robbers in the bank very nervous, and they hurried the bank officials out and told them to run to the horses and mount. This was done in order to keep the posse from shooting, but as bullets flew thick and fast the bank men tore loose and ran around the corner, with several shots after them.

George Binkingham, who was shooting at the robbers was shot and killed. While he was down the robbers shot at him several times. City Marshal Muckley, who was shooting at another robber, received a Winchester ball in the bowels. The ball glanced from silver dollars he had in his pocket, which may save his life.

J. W. McQueen, a saloon keeper, thinking the shots were for fire, ran out into the alley and was shot in the body, and it is thought mortally wounded. Charles S. Leonard was walking through the court house yard and was shot in the leg, necessitating amputation. Theodore Sims was shot in the left hand. Deputy Will Stevens was not hurt, though he stood in short range and killed one of the robbers.

The bankers all escaped unhurt except T. E. Clemmons, who in the scuffle with one of the robbers got his hand in the hammer of the robber's pistol, which came down and cut a hole in his hand. The robbers who stood guard in the alley would yell at every one who came in sight and shoot at them instantly. When the robbers rode away and saw one of their comrades dead they remarked: "Poor Bennett is dead."

The body of the dead robber was soon identified as George Bennett, a reckless fellow, who had been here some months ago and married a daughter of a respectable farmer living near this place, but left her and went to the Indian territory. The dead robber was dressed like a cowboy, and had on a belt full of cartridges and two double action revolvers. His horse, which was captured, had 300 rounds of ammunition strapped to the saddle. Another of the robbers, the man who gave Mr. Clemmons the note, was identified by several here. He married a respectable young lady in Panola county last fall, but later went to Mexico, and has not been heard of since until yesterday.

The robbers rode rapidly out of town, displaying their firearms and the money they had secured. An armed posse was soon in pursuit, and when last heard of was fifteen minutes behind them. The bank has offered $500 for their arrest, dead or alive, and the citizens supplemented the amount by $500.

Deputy John Howard was shot at fifteen times, but was not hurt. He emptied his pistol several times and would fire one of the robbers in the face. No less than 300 shots were fired.

Pennsylvania Knights Templars.

PITTSBURG, May 24.—The closing day of the forty-first annual conclave of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, was crowded with pleasant events, both social and those pertaining to the business of the order. The annual election of grand officers resulted as follows: Grand commander, Irving P. Wanger, of Norristown; deputy grand commander, Edward B. Spencer of Philadelphia; generalissimo, Samuel Schoke of Easton; captain general, Harry M. Van Zandt of Harrisburg; prelate, Charles T. Morgan; senior warden, Henry H. Kuhn, junior warden, James R. Youngson; treasurer, Isaac Albertson; recorder, Montgomery H. Smith.

Facts Worth Knowing

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in one to three days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause, and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. Seventy-five cents. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown.

ARREST OF FISHERMEN.

A Port Jervis Minister and a Friend May Have to Pay $100 Each for Fishing in a Jersey Stream.

Rev. W. H. Hudnut, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Port Jervis, and Benjamin Lord, of that village, went trout fishing in the noted Flatbrook stream in Sussex county, on Tuesday, having first secured a permit from Mrs. VanEtten to fish the stream, which runs through her farm a distance of half a mile.

They had but fairly commenced fishing when a constable appeared with a warrant and arrested them both, and took them both before Justice of the Peace William Drake, who released them on their own recognizance to appear next Tuesday.

The charge against them is "fishing in a posted stream" and the complainant is the Flatbrook Valley Club which claims to have leased the fishing rights of the whole stream, before the farm in question was sold to Mrs. VanEtten.

The penalty for the offence is $100 and the justice has no discretion in the matter. If the charge is maintained it will be an expensive trip for the Dominie and his friend.

THE PORT JERVIS Y. M. C. A.

It Succeeds in Raising $5,700 and Saves Its Building.

The Y. M. C. A. of Port Jervis, has been in an unpleasant plight for some time because it was necessary to raise $5,700 or forfeit its building, on which a considerable sum had been paid.

The condition of affairs was made known to the people and the several churches took the matter up and began a systematic canvass which finally resulted in raising the sum needed.

Heavy Damages for Water Rights.

From the Sussex Register.

The jury in the case of the Butler Hard Rubber Company et al, against the city of Newark, for damages for the diversion of the Pequannock River to supply Newark, increased the Commissioners' award from $65,800 to $72,899.16, less interest. The costs are heavy. The East Jersey Water Company is obliged to pay the judgment.

A Former Middletown Woman Divorced.

Friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. D. Howell Irwin will be both surprised and interested to learn that Mrs. Irwin was divorced from her husband on Nov. 25th, 1891. The decree was granted by Hon. Chas. E. Taylor, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Venango county, Pa.

The Minisink Silk Company.

The certificate of incorporation of the Minisink Silk Company, of Unionville, was filed, yesterday. The company was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $10,000, half of which is paid in. Harry Freeland, of Paterson, who has a practical knowledge of silk manufacturing will have charge of the factory.

A Very Young "Industrial."

A five-year-old boy, who said his name was Willie Doremus and that he had run away from his home in Brooklyn, was found on an Erie express train, Monday evening, and left in charge of the Paterson police, who kept him until his father came for him. The little chap said that he crossed the bridge and made his way down Chambers and across the ferry alone. He wasn't on his way to fight Indians, but was merely traveling for his health and to see the world.

NUGGETS OF NEWS

George Gould, who has arrived in London, says he will issue a general challenge to race the Vigilant against all comers.

The highly accomplished daughter of Rev. Dr. Anderson, of Ansonia, Conn., has joined the ranks of the Salvation Army.

Miss May Burnham, a leading belle of Springfield, Mass., was married last night to Yung Kwai, formerly of the Chinese legation at Washington.

Governor Northen, of Georgia, has appointed Judge Samson Harris, of Carrol county, secretary of state, to succeed General Phil Cook, who died on Monday.

A Bloody Conflict Expected.

DANVILLE, Ills., May 24.—The march to Mission Field was made by the striking miners from this city, and a crowd of nearly 1,000 miners is camped around the mines, but is kept at a distance by the deputies. Many of the Hungarians, Belgians and Poles are drinking heavily. The Hungarians are fresh from service in the European army and took along a wagon load of rifles. The conflict is expected momentarily.

A Counterfeit Treasury Note.

BALTIMORE, May 24.—The first attempt known here to counterfeit a United States treasury coin note was brought to light yesterday. The counterfeit was a $5 note of the legal tender series of the act of July 14, 1890. The note came from Pennsylvania, and was detected at a national bank. The note is not given in the United States detector, and is believed to be evidence of a new attempt to issue spurious money.

Close Race Across the Ocean.

LONDON, May 24.—The mails brought by the Majestic arrived in London at 10:59 o'clock last night, and those brought by the Paris at 11:55 o'clock. The Majestic arrived in Liverpool at 8:04 yesterday morning, and the Paris arrived at Southampton at 9 o'clock last evening.

EMBARRASSED BY THEIR RICHES.

Why Some Men With a Pot of Money Are Not So Happy as Others.

I feel genuine sorrow for a man who has a pot of money in bank drawing no interest. It spoils his digestion, ruffles his temper and keeps him awake nights. While the man who hasn't anything and doesn't expect to have anything is sound asleep, the man with idle money is tossing on his couch of anxiety.

There are no tempting investments being offered the man who may need his cash within six months and cannot therefore salt it down in real estate. The banks of New York are not paying interest. The savings banks are, but they have a good many safeguards against a man getting his money out in a pinch. The regular banks are suffering from an extraordinary glut of money.

"Interest!" exclaimed an official of one of these concerns to a customer with a $20,000 balance. "Why, it is a favor to take care of your money for you. We'd rather not have it so far as any advantage to us goes. We have so much on hand that we can't do anything with it. We are just loaded up with funds at present and nobody looking for money. Legitimate investment seems at a standstill hereabouts. The rest of the banks are in the same fix."

So the customer came away, gloomily figuring up the difference between himself and the man with nothing but a clear conscience.—New York Herald.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Journalistic Courtesy in Greene County.

A Handsome Church Dedicated.

EASTON, Md., May 24.—Trinity Cathedral, erected in memory of Right Rev. Dr. Henry Champlin Lay, the first bishop of Easton diocese, was dedicated yesterday. There was a large gathering of people and distinguished clergy present. The structure is generally considered one of the handsomest church edifices in the country.

An Anti-Cleveland Candidate.

DALLAS, Tex., May 24.—The formal announcement of Judge John H. Reagan, ex-Confederate postmaster general, that he is a candidate for governor, has created a profound sensation. A month ago he declared he was against President Cleveland. This announcement at once makes the campaign for and against Cleveland.

M. Bourgeois Declines.

PARIS, May 24.—President Carnot, after a fruitless effort to induce M. Cassimir-Perier to retain the premiership, called M. Bourgeois to form a cabinet. M. Bourgeois, however, declined, saying he did not feel prepared to undertake the solution of existing difficulties.

A German-Statesman Horsewhipped.

VIENNA, May 24.—Herr Kaiser, the well known anti-Semite member of the reichsrath, was attacked while walking in the street and horsewhipped by two men who were employed, it is said, by an insurance company which Herr Kaiser recently criticized in the reichsrath.

M. Cassimir-Perier's Ambition.

LONDON, May 24.—The correspondent of The Daily News at Paris states that M. Cassimir-Perier engaged himself not to be a candidate for the presidency as long as he was premier. He is now at liberty to try to satisfy his ambition.

The Standard Reaching Out.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The World says: "The two greatest monopolies in christendom, the Standard Oil Trust of America, and the Russian Oil Trust of Russia, are about to effect a new division of the world. A commercial geography is being transferred and new hemispheres mapped out under the supervision of a Russian committee and an agent of the Standard Oil magnates. These negotiations are being conducted by order and with the approval of the Russian minister of finance. A committee is working out the necessary arrangements for dividing the markets of the whole world for the trade with Russian and American kerosene."

A Warning to the Miners.

PHILLIPSBURG, Pa., May 24.—Notices have been posted at nearly all the mines in the Clearfield and Beach Creek regions giving the men to understand that but forty cents per ton would hereafter be paid for mining. Coupled to it was another notice to the effect that after the 28th inst. the operators will proceed to hire new men and work the mines if the old employes are not back in their places before that time. The miners are disposed to ridicule the idea of the operators bringing new hands into the district. Should it be done, however, all agree that there is likely to be serious trouble.

Taylor Finally Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—C. H. J. Taylor, the colored Kansan over whose confirmation to be recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia there has been a spirited contest in the senate, was confirmed at yesterday's executive session, the vote standing 34 to 15. There was no speech-making beyond a few remarks by Senator Hill to the effect that the Democratic party platform on the subject of home rule should be observed. The division in the vote was not over party lines, but Taylor received a larger percentage of Republican votes than at first seemed probable.

Dowe's Coat Stands the Test.

LONDON, May 24.—The Duke of Cambridge and a large number of military and naval experts, together with the military and naval attaches of the foreign embassies and legations, including Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attache, were present yesterday at the Alhambra theater to witness a special test of the bullet proof coat invented by Herr Dowe, the Mannheim tailor. Herr Dowe, wearing his coat, was fired at at different ranges, but the coat was not pierced. A committee of well known military officers guaranteed that the tests were genuine.

Murderer Walwitz Must Hang.

TRENTON, May 24.—In the trial of Convict Walwitz for the murder of Deputy Lippincott the prisoner testified yesterday that the fatal shot was fired by somebody in the center of the prison, and not by him. The case was given to the jury by Justice Abbett shortly after 4 o'clock. After deliberating for two and a half hours the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

Murderer Fiehl Escapes the Gallows.

BRIDGETON, N. J., May 24.—The jury in the case of Louis Fiehl, for the murder of Christian Zaiss, brought in a verdict last night, finding the prisoner guilty of murder in the second degree. Fiehl killed Zaiss in Vineland last November while trying to rob a bakery in which Zaiss was employed.

Strikers Empty Coal Chutes.

LA SALLE, Ills., May 24.—A mob of 300 striking miners took possession of the Illinois Central Railroad company's property yesterday afternoon and emptied all the coal out of the chutes onto the track. The sheriff was called, and with a posse finally dispersed the mob.

STOCK AND PRODUCE EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 23.—The share speculation today was generally strong and decidedly active. Reactions due mainly to realizations of profits on an occasional bear drive sent prices down temporarily, but there were buyers for all the stocks offered, and after each decline came a rally which established a higher range of values. Lock Haven Appeals for State Aid.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., May 24.—The city has resumed its usual activity, but the streets are still in very bad shape. At a meeting of city council resolutions were adopted instructing the mayor to appeal to the governor and to clearing the streets and cellars. The appeal was forwarded by Mayor Mayer. This county has lost the greater part of its bridges by the flood. No lives are thus far reported as having been lost.

Chesapeake Bay Crowded with Logs.

BALTIMORE, May 24.—All the boat captains arriving here today report the Chesapeake bay crowded with drift logs. It is estimated that over 100,000,000 feet of logs are in the bay above Pooles Island. Several tugs have gone out on a hunt for them. These logs will cause a resumption of business at mills which have been idle. The freshet of 1889 brought so many logs as to cause the building of mills at Sparrow's Point.

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1894.

The Platt Republicans of New York city declared, last night, against any combination with bolting Democrats in next fall's local campaign. The resolution, which was put through with a hurrah, is an open defiance of the Union League Republicans, who have been trying to engineer a deal.

Senator Teller's motion to table the tariff bill seems to have been made and forced to a vote for the purpose of making the Populist Senators and the Republican Senators from the silver States define their positions. The Republican Senators all voted for the motion to table and the Populist Senators all voted with the Democrats against the motion. Senator Hill also got in line with his party.

As a result of the coke workers' strike, seven of the nine furnaces of the Carnegie Steel Company at Braddock, Pa., have been forced to go out of blast. All the mills of the Carnegie Company get their supplies of iron and pig metal from these furnaces and if the strike continues a few days longer 10,000 men will be thrown out of work. The papers have been full of accounts of furnaces, mills and factories which have been forced to suspend on account of the coal miners' strike shutting off their supplies of fuel, and the whole situation shows that organized labor in any branch, when seeking to make a point for itself, is absolutely regardless of the effects of its course on other workingmen.

The first woman suffrage petition was presented to the Constitutional Convention, yesterday. It was from Rochester, the home of Susan B. Anthony, and contained 24,000 names. It was supplemented by one from Monroe county, outside of Rochester, with 8,000 names. The big petition for equal suffrage, which was to have contained the names of a million women, but which falls a great many hundred thousand names short of that number, will be presented today, if the ladies can arrange the details in time—arranging the details meaning, according to one reporter, "tying the books containing the names with yellow satin ribbons, so that they will look pretty."

The Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee have prepared a table showing the equivalent ad valorem rates in the McKinley bill, in the Wilson bill and in the Senate bill. The table is very timely, for it will correct the erroneous impression that the Senate bill provides for almost as high duties as the McKinley bill and for very much higher duties than the Wilson bill. The rates as officially announced, are as follows:

Schedules.	Mc Kinley.	Senate.	House.
Earth, glassware, etc	51.25	37.33	34 37

Senator Gorman rendered the Democratic party a very great service, yesterday, by the able speech in which he cleared away the fogs of doubt and distrust which Republican misrepresentation had raised about the policy of Democratic Senators in regard to tariff legislation, and in which he clearly showed that the bill, as amended by the Democrats of the Senate Finance Committee, is a Democratic measure, meeting in all respects the pledges of the Democratic party in its platform, and while not a free trade measure going as far in the direction of lower duties as is consistent with the revenue requirements of the government.

Mr. Gorman began with the prophetic announcement that "emancipation was at hand from all the evils that the Democratic party inherited from three decades of Republican maladministration." He declared that the re-forming of a tariff was a work that required time and showed that the Democrats of the present Congress had made much better progress with tariff legislation than a Republican Congress made with the McKinley bill. The pending bill, he said, had been constructed on the Democratic theory of a tariff for revenue with such incidental protection as can be afforded. It follows strictly the line marked out by President Cleveland in his letter of acceptance. It provides for lower duties than the Mills bill or the tariff of 1883. It discriminates between raw material and manufactured articles to the full extent of the difference between European and American wages. It is not a deficit creating act such as the McKinley act has proven or as the House bill would have been, if enacted. Concluding this part of his speech he said:

"It is Democratic, because it reduces taxation to the actual requirements of the government. It is just, because it eliminates the favoritism of the present law and lessens the burdens upon the great majority of the people. It is wise, because it makes possible the quick revival of business activity so sadly needed and universally desired. It is businesslike, because it provides sufficient revenue to meet necessary expenditures without further issue of bonds. It is patriotic, because whatever discrimination it contains is in favor of American citizens. It is prudent, because it does not attempt to ignore facts in bearing out a theory."

The charge that the interests of trusts had been considered in drafting the bill was unequivocally denied. All that was possible had been done in curtailing their privileges consistent with the rights of others intimately concerned but not responsible. The duty on lead is reduced fifty per cent., on steel rails fifty-six per cent. and on refined sugar seventy-five per cent.—more than on the product of any trust or on any other article. In regard to the income tax provision Mr. Gorman said that while personally opposed to such a tax he could not ignore the fact that a large majority of his Democratic colleagues demanded that its practical workings be tested. The frightful financial obligations heaped up by Republican legislation make it necessary to obtain additional revenue from some source, and he was willing to accept it as an emergency tax rather than allow his opposition to it to stand in the way of what was infinitely more important, tariff reform.

BLOODSHED IN THE COKE REGION

Deputies Attacked by Strikers Return the Fire Killing Several and Wounding Many.

By United Press.

SCOTTDALE, May 24—Later advices state that the strikers attacked a house occupied by deputies in Stickle Hollow, near the Washington Run coal mines. The deputies opened fire and the fire was returned. Five strikers were killed and eight wounded and three deputies were wounded. The strikers fled after returning the fire.

The latest report says eight strikers were killed and sixteen wounded.

A NEW PLEASURE RESORT.

George Lea Comes to the Front in a Middletown Enterprise—A New Park to be Opened in the North End.

Mr. George Lea, who recently came to Middletown, from Port Jervis, has begun to show the spirit of enterprise that made him one of the most important factors in the growth and development of Port Jervis.

Yesterday, he purchased through the agency of H. W. Corey, from David R. Miller, about ten acres of land in the North End, known as Miller's woods and ice pond, the consideration being about $1,000 per acre.

Mr. Lea will at once begin to improve the property, which is to be known as "Lea & Corey's Harlem Park." A dancing pavilion 100 feet square will be erected, a fence will be built around the property and swings, merry-go-rounds and traveling rings, to furnish amusement to the public, will be put up, and a "Midway Plaisance," will be constructed through the centre of the property.

The lake will be used to furnish an entirely new and novel amusement—a marine merry-go-round, in which boats will be used instead of horses, etc., as in the merry-go-rounds on land.

The pavilion will also be used as a summer theatre, and it is the intention of the managers to hold a grand celebration there on July 4th.

There will be a station of the O. and W. Railway on the grounds, and tickets including transportation on the electric cars and admission to the grounds will be sold down town for fifteen cents.

If the plans of Messrs Lea & Corey are carried out, as they doubtless will, they will furnish Middletown with a place for summer amusement that it has long needed, and with Harlem Park and Midway Park on the Wallkill and electric cars to both, Middletown ought not to be a dull place by any means.

Or even half of it? It was a tough job, wasn't it? You often felt like using the money, didn't you? That was because you knew you had it in your pocket or the bank. Could you save up $250 to buy a piano? Doubtful, but you wouldn't miss $10 a month if you could pay it that way and get a first-class Piano from the start.

That is just what we are in business for. Although we sell Pianos and Organs for cash, and at prices that cannot be beaten in the world, we also sell the same instruments on credit terms, asking only a small per cent. for the accommodation. THE UNKNOWN DEAD

The Body of the Man Found in Summit Lake Still Unidentified—The Tattoo Marks—Looking for a Tramp.

The body of the man found drowned in Summit Lake, yesterday, still lies in Knapp & Merritts morgue, and while it has been viewed by many people no one can form even the faintest idea of the man's identity, and as there is nothing among his small possessions that will throw any light upon the subject it is probable that he will be buried as an "unknown" and that his friends, if he have any, will never know of his fate.

There would not be the least difficulty in any of the man's friends identifying him. The description given, yesterday, was correct except that there is a round bunch of gray hair, evidently a birth mark, on the top of the head near the forehead.

The tattoo marks are so numerous and of such designs that any one who had ever seen them would recognize them again. On the breast is a representation of the crucifixion with the mother of Christ kneeling at the foot of the cross. This piece is six inches long and very artistically executed. There is a star on each shoulder, and both arms and wrists and the backs of both hands are covered with tattooing. There is also a female figure on the calf of each leg and a collection of flags on each instep.

There seems to be no doubt whatever that the man fell into the pond, probably in a fit, and but a short time before the body was found, for it was still warm and limp when it was taken from the water.

It is now said that a tramp discovered the body and told the Italian, who gave the alarm and an effort is being made by the Coroner to apprehend him.

The body has been embalmed and will be kept as long as possible in the hope of identification.

The Mary Powell Excursion.

The managers of Thrall Hospital were unfortunate in the selection of a day for the Mary Powell excursion. Owing to the storm only about forty persons made the trip.

THE MT. DALE SHOOTING

MATERAZZO BARTATOME FIRED THE SHOTS IN SELF DEFENSE.

Rose Murphy and Mary McClain Corroborate Bartatome's Story that He Shot to Save Himself—Lynch's Statement in Detail—The Italian Misses His Victim—The Parties to the Tragedy—The Girls Held as Witnesses—Lynch Almost Certain to Die.

While Matrazza Bartatome, the Italian cook, who shot and perhaps fatally wounded Joseph Lynch and Cornelius Bresinhan at Mountain Dale, Tuesday night, is in a most unenviable position, it is extremely doubtful whether in the event of the death of either or both of his victims he can be convicted of anything but a minor degree of manslaughter, if, indeed, he is not acquitted of all crime upon the ground of self defense.

The general reputation of the men, the previous good character of the Italian, and the girls' story as told to their employer, when away from the stern gaze of officials, have done much to change public sentiment which at first was decidedly against the foreigner.

When an ARGUS and MERCURY reporter stepped from O. and W. train 1 at Mountain Dale, at noon, yesterday, his first impression was that the story that a terrible double murder had been committed was a "fake." There was no crowd about the station nor about the village store, and there was no more evidence of excitement than is occasioned daily by the arrival of the "Mail."

Bystanders, however, quickly informed the reporter of the whereabouts of the wounded men and the coroner and also that the "murderer" had been hustled off to Monticello jail.

PREJUDICE AGAINST THE ITALIAN.

The sentiment seemed to be very strong against the Italian cook, but as the affidavits made by the several participants in the affray became known and talked about, a reaction set in and there were many who were ready to say that they believed the cook had acted in self defense, and that Lynch and Bresinhan had received no more than they deserved. The feeling against the Italian is stronger than it otherwise would be owing to his nationality, his race being condemned as a whole by almost every resident of the place.

Bresinhan was found in an apartment over James Carden's store. Coroner John Norton and his clerk, W. B. Niven, of Monticello, had just finished taking his ante-mortem statement, and had also examined the girls, Rose Murphy and Mary McClain, and the Italian, "Patsy," who figured as guide for the party from his shanty to the scene of the tragedy.

LYNCH'S ANTE MORTEM STATEMENT

The reporter then went with the coroner to the residence of Joseph Lynch, who made the following statement under oath:

My name is Joseph Lynch; am twenty-nine years old; was born at Mountain Dale and have always resided here. On Tuesday evening, about half past eight o'clock, in company with Con. Bresinhan, I went to the shanty occupied by an Italian named "Patsy." The shanty is located alongside the O. and W. Railroad track about 300 yards north of the station. We had been there about ten minutes when the French cook and two women, Rose Murphy and a girl called Mary came in. I did not know them. They had been at Olds's house about one week; met them first on Sunday night; we all were in the shanty about half to three-quarters of an hour, leaving about 9:30 o'clock. The night was very dark and "Patsy" preceded us down the track, carrying a globe lamp to light the way. The cook and Patsy went ahead. I followed with Mary, and Con. and Rose Murphy were last. Michael Culligan and John Knote were in the shanty but did not go with us. There was no quarrel in the shanty. Went there to see the cook at request of Mrs. Stoddard, who wanted to get a cook and thought Frank (the cook,) might be able to recommend one. When we had left the track, after passing the station, and had gone about three hundred feet up the road towards the Olds house, Frank dropped back, allowing me to pass him with Mary. He said something to Rose and then knocked her down. Con. remonstrated with him, and I said that he ought not to have struck the girl. Saw the cook draw a revolver and grappled with him. It was so dark I could not see his face. I tried to catch his hand when he drew his revolver but missed it. I grabbed him and in the struggle which followed I was shot as we fell. He then turned and shot Bresinhan. We both walked to Carden's store. Have not seen Frank since the shooting. Had no previous quarrel with Frank. Am positive it was the French cook who shot me. Think that Frank was jealous of the attentions paid the Murphy girl. Never saw the girls before Sunday night. Do not know whether Frank knew them in the city. We drank three glasses of cider in the shanty. I sent to Mr. Green's for one gallon. Never had any difficulty with the man. Could identify him if brought before me. He is short, thick set, heavy black moustach, about thirty-five years old.

(Signed.) JOSEPH LYNCH.

ROSE MURPHY'S STORY.

This statement agrees in detail with that made by Bresinhan and the girls with the important exception that Rose Murphy and "Patsy," the Italian guide, swore that Rose slipped and fell and was not knocked down. Rose testified as follows:

"After passing the depot on the road to Olds', we passed the cook and he (the cook) pushed me, and I slipped and fell. He said 'you must not walk with that young man;' I replied that I would walk with whom I pleased. Lynch came back and grappled with him and both went down on the ground, and then the cook shot. We then separated." * *

Patsy testified: * * "I walked ahead. The cook said it was too late and ought to be home. I saw the fight and the cook down, and then heard two shots. I was there and heard and saw the shooting." * *

Thus it is shown that the stories of the origin of the quarrel and statements as to who struck the first blow do not agree, but the Italian Patsy's story agrees with the statement made by the girls to their employer.

WHAT THE GIRLS TOLD THEIR MISTRESS.

The reporter called at the Old's residence and was met at the door by Mrs. Abbie Miller, who manages the house for Mr. Olds. Mrs. Miller informed him that the girls had stated to her that Materazzo had said that it was late and that they had better go home. He spoke particularly to Rose and pushed her. The board walk was slippery and she fell down, but not from the force of his blow.

Then the two men jumped on Materazzo and knocked him down, and they were kicking and beating him, as he lay on his back, and while in that position Materazzo had fired the revolver. Both men ran toward Carden's store and Materazzo went toward the house.

The girls followed Lynch and Bresinhan to see if they were hurt and then learned the extent of the injuries. They returned to the house and retired without saying anything of the affray to their mistress, who knew nothing of it until morning.

Mrs. Miller stated that Materazzo had been highly recommended to her, as were also the girls. That the cook had known Rose Murphy for several months in the city and that Materazzo was married, and was the father of two children.

WISHED TO PROTECT THE GIRLS.

Mrs. Miller said that Lynch had come to the house on Sunday evening, in an intoxicated condition and that Materazzo had told him to leave. She believes that the man's "jealousy" was nothing more than a desire to protect the girls from the wiles of two men whom he thought were rough characters and one of whom he had already driven from the place in a state of intoxication.

Materazzo wore his white cook's coat on the evening of the affray and this was found to be covered with mud, particularly the back of the garment, showing plainly that the man had been lying upon his back in the muddy road.

KISSED HIS VICTIM.

Sheriff Harrison Beecher returned to Mountain Dale with his prisoner about 4 o'clock. Materazzo was taken to the bedside of Bresinhan, who positively identified him as the man who had shot him. A dramatic scene then ensued. Materazzo was told to take a seat beside the bed while the coroner questioned the wounded man. When the clothing was removed, disclosing the wound, the Italian put his hands before his eyes to shut out the sight. As he left the room he stopped, grasped the dying man's hand, and with tears welling in his eyes, said, "Good bye, John. Excuse me," and before he could be prevented, leaned over and implanted a kiss on the wounded man's forehead.

A LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION.

When asked by the coroner to give his name, he produced a letter of recommendation which read as follows.

MAY 27th, 1793.

Materazzo Bartatome has lived in my employ the last ten months and has given us perfect satisfaction. He is perfectly honest, sober, never drinks, is always willing and faithful, and I cheerfully recommend him to any one desiring the services of a first-class cook.

MRS. ABBIE MILLER,
62 West 53rd street.

This recommendation was evidently written a year ago by Mrs. Miller, his present employer.

"A BAD MESS."

Bartatome was then taken to the bedside of Lynch, who also identified him as the man who shot him. Materazzo made no denial. As he stepped into the buggy to be taken back to Monticello jail, he turned to the reporter and said, in very broken English, "This is a bad mess. I have lived thirty-four years and never had these on before," alluding to his handcuffs. He said he was thirty-three or thirty-four years old and had a wife and two children living at No. 444 East 13th street, New York.

He told the constable and Mr. Nicholas Morgan, who took him to Monticello, that he had acted in self-defense; that the men had him down and were beating and kicking him when he shot, and that he did not know or believe they were hurt until his arrest in the morning.

Rose Murphy is a prepossessing young woman, about eighteen years of age, light hair and rosy cheeks. She gave her address in her affidavit and also to the reporter as 235 East 54th street, but on a letter which was handed to the reporter to mail the address was written 51st street. Mary McClain lived at 100 East 102nd street. She is about twenty-six years of age and does not present as attractive an appearance as her friend.

A BULLET FROM BRESINHAN'S BACK.

During the afternoon Drs. Curlette, of Mountain Dale, and McWilliams, of Monticello, extracted the bullet from Bresinhan's back, and also probed for the bullet in Lynch's lungs, but without success. The physicians express grave doubts of the recovery of either man.

Lynch has lived in Mountain Dale all his life. He has been employed by a number of people as a laborer. Several persons were interrogated as to his general character and reputation, but all asked to be excused from answering the question. He has never been in trouble before.

JUST OUT OF JAIL.

Cornelius Bresinhan was born in Greenfield, Ulster county, twenty-nine years ago, and has lived in Mountain Dale most of that time. Several months ago he was arrested and lodged in Kingston jail charged with having committed an assault upon a Hebrew peddler, along the banks of the canal. He was released two or three weeks ago, the authorities being unable to find the peddler to press the complaint. He was ill with fever while in jail and his physical condition is not nearly as good as Lynch's.

Materazzo is a short, thick set man, scarcely over five feet tall. He has a bright, intelligent face, adorned with a heavy black moustache, and but for his squatty figure might be termed a handsome man.

The Grand Jury will meet in Monticello, Monday next, and it is probable that the case will be brought before it.

LYNCH ALMOST CERTAIN TO DIE.

A dispatch from Mountain Dale, this morning, says that Bresinhan is resting easily, but that Lynch has developed a high fever and the chances of his recovery are but one in one hundred.

The girls were taken to Monticello, last night, and will be held as witnesses for the Grand Jury.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN COSHEN.

Inspection of Maj. Murray Camp—Called to Fishkill—Death of Miss Judson—Singers in the Storm—Minor Notes.

From our regular correspondent.

—Col. Clarence E. Holmes, of Mount Vernon, inspected Major Murray Camp, S. of V., last evening.

—Mrs. John Farrell and Miss Ida Higgs have been summoned to Fishkill to attend the funeral of a relative.

—A detail from Major Murray Camp, S. of V., will act as a firing squad on Decoration Day.

—Miss Ada Judson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Judson, died, yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, after a long illness, aged twenty-one years. The funeral will be held, Saturday afternoon.

—Miss Minnie Bearce, neice of Police Justice Sweezy, is very seriously sick, and I am sorry to say there is thought to be little chance of her recovery.

—Joseph Fisher has decided to remain in Goshen and continue to run the Golden Hill hotel.

—Several members of the Goshen Vocal Society started for Warwick, last night, to rehearse with the Warwick singers. After driving as far as Florida they turned around and returned home on account of the heavy rain, which commenced to fall.

—Abe Cooke, of Newburgh, was in town, last evening.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary E. Dowe.

Mrs. Mary E. Dowe, widow of the late Washington Dowe and mother of Trainmaster Geo. W. Dowe, died at the residence of the latter, in Port Jervis, yesterday morning, of uremic poison. Her son is her only immediate surviving relative.

The body was taken east on train 6, to-day, to Concord, N. H., where the interment will take place.

Unsuccessful Fishermen.

Major E. L. Sproat, W. W. Taylor and George Lowe went to Wurtsboro, yesterday, for trout, but came back empty handed.

HE COLLECTED THE BILL.

Likewise Obeyed Orders and Established a Reputation That Made Him.

"When I was a youngster of 17," said a successful business man, "I got a job as a collector with a man who was about as strict a martinet as I ever saw. He insisted on everything being done just as he said, and there were times when he was really a burden, but I stuck to him for six months; then we had a difference. It was this way: One morning he called me up and handed me a bill on a man I knew. He said for me to take it around and collect it.

"'It's one of our standbys,' he said, 'and every collector I ever sent to him reported him absent or not findable or something. Now, you go and don't come back here till you see him.'

"'Do you mean that?' I asked as two or three clerks looked up.

"'You know me,' was all he said in reply, and I went out after my man.

"He wasn't at home, the people said, and wouldn't be for six weeks. So I stuck the bill in my pocket and went off up the country for a visit. The old man sent after me half a dozen times, but my folks could only tell I was out of town, and I never paid any attention to a letter I got from the boss, but went on enjoying myself. Then I came back and had a visit with some other friends, and at the end of six weeks I called on my man again with the bill. I found him at home and told him what I had done, and he paralyzed me by paying the bill, with interest. Two hours later I stepped into the Loss' office.

"'There,' I said before he had time to gather his wits, 'is the amount of your bill and interest. He was out of town for six weeks, and I couldn't see him before. You told me not to come back till I did see him, and I was obeying your instructions. I had a rattling good time, and the house owes me six weeks' salary.'

"The old man gasped, got blue in the face, and I thought he was going to explode, but he didn't. He gulped it all down and stuck out his hand.

"'Young man,' he said, 'you ought to have been a soldier. I am going to put you in charge of the collection department and double your salary.' And," concluded the merchant, "when I was 25 I was a partner."—Detroit Free Press.

An Amateur Tinker's Experience.

A well known merchant of this city, who is of a saving disposition and of a mechanical turn of mind, has an inclination to attempt to do everything. He considers nothing well done that he does not do himself. The other evening one of the clocks at his home refused to keep time, so he thought he would repair it. He had repaired many a clock before and had not the least doubt of his skill. He took all the wheels and pinions apart and cleaned them. This occupied the entire evening, and when he retired he dumped all the cogwheels and parts of the clock into a drawer in his desk. The merchant is unfortunate, at least at this time, in possessing a son of mischievous disposition who happened to come across the drawer full of wheels. He knew what his father had been doing and thought he would have a little fun. He went to his room where he had a wheel that had been taken from another clock and placed this in the drawer with the other "fixings." That night the father commenced his work of putting the separate parts together. He tried it several times, but always had one wheel left over. The next night he tried the problem once more. Again he failed. For two weeks he puzzled over his mechanical problem, always having a wheel left over for which he could not account. Finally the son, who had been enjoying the sport, told his parent of his little joke. Then he wished he had made no confession.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Broncbos and Mustangs.

Tenderfeet, by the way, are very apt to mix up the terms "broncho" and "mustang." The mustang is literally a wild horse—that is, one whose forefathers have never been in captivity and whose ancestry is believed to be derived from the horses of the old Spanish invaders—while the bronchos are the children of cow ponies, or horses which have been used and which have been turned out on the range for the purpose of breeding. These horses are branded, and the colts belong to the man whose brand is on the mother. Horses are rounded up every year, and the colts are caught and branded by the owners of the mares with which they are found running, and when they become of breakable age they are taken by the men whose brand they bear. Of course there is more or less of false branding, but where a "hustler" is found engaged in this industry he is generally sent to a place where horses are not supposed to exist and where there is no temptation for him to indulge the fad.—New York Mail and Express.

Don't Crowd the Auctioneer.

There is a diamond of rare value and fine water lying in the heart of the Bank of England vaults that has come to England from the Orange Free State, where it was found by a miner. The stone weighs nearly 800 carats and is the largest in the world. There is evidently to be some competition between would be buyers, among whom is the German emperor. The value of the diamond when it was estimated by the Free State government mine inspector was £25,000, but the price now put upon it is £1,000,000.—London Court Journal.

Hadn't Seen Them All.

"Your grandsons seem to carry their honors most easily," said the observant foreigner. "I have met several of your senators, and they seem just as common as any one."

"That may be the case with senators," replied the citizen, "but you just ought to meet a newly elected justice of the peace."—Indianapolis Journal.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and casings, and the building is not saturated with water, as is necessarily must be when common plaster is used; it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the building to dry out; it does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage; it is applied easily by any good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and "to stay."

A DESERTED CITY.

Capable of Holding 20,000, and Yet No Human Being Lives In It.

A party of archaeologists just returned here from the northeast corner of North Dakota tell a thrilling story of the abandoned city of West Lynne. The city is desolate and going to decay. No traffic goes on in its streets or business in its stores. No human is in its dwellings. The streets are graded, have sidewalks, and trees and shrubbery flourish in the yards surrounding the residences, but all in silence and loneliness.

The town is opposite Emerson, just across the Manitoba line from St. Vincent. There, on two sides of the Red river and within an area of four square miles, are four towns—Emerson, West Lynne, Winston and Pembina.

The history of the place is one of the romances of town building in the boom period, when Winnipeg was the metropolis of the north. Some schemers, with more fatality than scruples, platted and exploited a city on the river as a point where they claimed the Great Northern was to cross. Eastern capitalists were becoming interested, and money was plenty. There was no sham about the actual construction of that town, but a substantial reality.

A man named Murray of Chicago was the agent. He sold lots at auction for $5,000 each. While he would be selling, a telegram would come notifying him of the sale of a certain plot, and it would be withdrawn. Then he sold adjoining lots at advanced prices. That was the broker feature. Meantime building was progressing.

No board shanties, wood walls nor canvas shells, but handsome structures of brick or lumber, thoroughly furnished in approved style, were erected, and to-day the town is a handsome but useless monument to the credulity of some and the handiwork of others.

It has buildings which cost from $5,000 to $10,000, and the bridge, which cost $200,000, is a fine piece of building a population of 20,000, and yet no human being lives in it.—Philadelphia Times.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher? That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and his formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting that government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

A MIXED ORDER.

The Metaphysical Husband Tries to Carry Out His Practical Wife's Ideas.

"John," said the practical wife to her metaphysical husband, "I wish you would go down street and get me three yards of white lace and two pounds of sirloin steak."

John, who took no earthly interest in anything less abstruse than Kant's philosophy, started off on his errand, repeating his wife's command over and over on the way, lest he should forget it.

"Three yards of white lace and two pounds of sirloin steak. Three yards of white lace and two pounds of sirloin steak," he kept repeating over and over all the way to the store. But before he arrived the steak and the lace were badly mixed in his mind. When he entered the dry goods store, he was repeating rapidly to himself:

"Three pounds of sirloin lace and two yards of white steak. 'Two yards of white sirloin and three pounds of steak lace."

He was conscious that he was somewhat mixed, but he knew he wanted lace of some kind. So he marched up to the young saleswoman and boldly said.

"I want some lace."

"Yes, sir," she replied. "What kind, please?"

"Sirloin lace, I believe."

"Why, really," replied the saleswoman, "that must be a new variety which we have not yet secured. Are you sure that is the name?"

"No," said John. "I only know I want three pounds of lace of some sort."

"But we do not sell it by the pound," said the saleswoman, repressing the giggle that was taxing her immortal soul to hold in.

"Well, then," said John, "I'll take three gallons."

"We do not sell it by the gallon either," she said, holding in the earthquake smiles that was bursting within her. "We sell it by the yard."

"Well, then, give me three yards," said John, "but be sure it is not scale. I always insist upon having fresh food upon my table."

"But lace don't feed," said the saleswoman.

"Isn't it?" asked John innocently. "Well, give me three pounds—or yards of it, whatever it is, and let me get off."

"But what kind do you want, sir?" asked the salesperson. "Point lace, applique, beaded, Brussels, Chenille, Cluny, Madeira, Honiton, Duchess, Valenciennes, Damascene, marque or Sammy?"

"I don't know," said John. "I guess you better turn them all in the sun together, stir 'em round and mix 'em up, and then I shall be sure of getting some of the kind my wife wanted me to get."

The irrepressible giggle here burst forth, and the saleswoman's life was saved.

After she had recovered from her spasm of laughter she said

"Perhaps you can assist me some in selecting the lace if you will tell me for what purpose your wife wants it."

"Well she is putting up canned peaches," said John. "Perhaps she wants to put the lace in them."

Here another giggle came to the exploding point and John turned on his heel and went out in disgust.

Although he went away mad, he resolved to finish his errand as best he could. So he went into the butcher's and said he wanted three yards of steak, but he couldn't remember for the life of him whether it was applique Damascene, Valenciennes or antique steak that he was after.

When John arrived home without either his lace or his steak, his wife said, "It is just as I expected."—New York World.

Where He Crawled.

Mrs Timid—Did you ever find a man under the bed?

Mrs Bluff—Yes. The night we thought there were burglars in the house I found my husband there.—Tit Bits.

No Use Waiting.

First Boy—Come on.

Second Boy—Wait. They are raising that big safe to that upper window.

First Boy—Well, there ain't anybody under it. Come on.—Good News.

The Unusual.

Edith—My dressmaker, Miss Mantalini, must be busy: all her trade.

Helen—Why?

Edith—She sent my new dress home the day it was promised.—Truth.

Three Enough.

Daughter—What! Marry Mr Mouthagut! I hate him, I despise him, I abhor him!

Mrs de Pinkney—Hush, child! You needn't tell him so until after you marry him.—New York Weekly.

Not What He Meant.

She—Count your flattery, sir, or I shall put my hands over my ears.

He (wishing to pay her a compliment)—Impossible! Your hands are too small for that.—Petit Meridional.

MELLIN'S FOOD
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

THE ONLY PERFECT
Substitute for Mother's Milk.

Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:—Permit me to say that for many years I have used Mellin's Food in my family with the most satisfactory results.
Yours respectfully,
HENRY LYMAN HAVEN, M. D.

Brooklyn, N. Y.
Gentlemen:—We have used Mellin's Food and can highly recommend it, and it seems to us the best a great deal of good, it has done more than the doctor's. Your book, etc., We think it is simple, and shall use your Food hereafter.
Yours truly,
CHARLES LEWIS.

Dear Sirs:—I have used Mellin's Food with a great deal of satisfaction. My baby had been very cross and grown a lot since he has taken it. He is now a fine, healthy boy of six months.
MRS. C. W. ASHLEY.

Gentlemen:—Baby is doing nicely. He has had no cholera infantum. Mellin's Food has all we could desire.
MRS. LIVELY.

Trenton, Ontario Co., N. Y.
Messrs. Doubleday, Hovenden & Co.:
I have used Mellin's Food for my baby, and find it to be all you claim for it. He is now six months old and weighs 16 lbs. He has been troubled with his bowels, but since using your Food he has not had a sick day. I cannot say too much in favor of it.
Respectfully, MRS. JOHN T. CASEY.

FREE, our book, "The Care and Feeding of Infants," to anyone, anywhere.
